ACADEMICS @ EMMANUEL

AREAS OF STUDY

With more than 50 areas of study to explore, students will develop the ability to acquire and evaluate knowledge, as well as the imagination to shape new ways of perceiving, thinking, and creating.

This is the basis of an Emmanuel liberal arts and sciences education. To develop your intellectual potential, your sense of self and your commitment to serving others in the community. To become a critical thinker, an ethical decision maker and a contributing member of the world around you.

ART
Majors and minors in graphic design & technology, studio art and art therapy; minors in art history and digital photography

BIOLOGY
Major and minor in biology; major concentrations in health sciences and neuroscience

CHEMISTRY
Major and minor in chemistry; major concentrations in biochemistry and forensic science

EDUCATION
Majors in elementary education and secondary education

ENGLISH
Major and minor in English communication, media and cultural studies; majors in English literature and writing

FOREIGN LANGUAGES
Major and minor in Spanish

HISTORY
Major and minor in history

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES
Major in American studies; minor in gender & women’s studies, Latin American studies, Middle Eastern studies and peace studies

MANAGEMENT & ECONOMICS
Majors and minors in accounting, management and sport management; minors in economics and organizational leadership

MATH
Majors and minors in math and biostatistics

PERFORMING ARTS
Minors in music-theater, music and theater arts

PHILOSOPHY
Major and minor in philosophy

POLITICAL SCIENCE
Major and minor in political science; major concentrations in international relations & comparative politics, American politics & government

PSYCHOLOGY
Major and minor in psychology; major concentrations in developmental psychology, counseling & health and neuroscience

SOCIOLOGY
Major and minor in sociology; major concentrations in crime & justice, human services and social inequality & social justice

THEOLOGY & RELIGIOUS STUDIES
Major and minor in theology & religious studies; minor in Catholic studies